Japan Drives Bargain With Britain and Is Now Ready To Back Capital Ship Demand.

AMERICA REFUSES TO CHANGE STAND

England and Japan Determined To Discuss Matters Settled at Washington Conference.

Washington, June 27.—(AP)—The United States was pictured today by state department officials as unalterably opposed to acceptance of the British proposal to revise at the Geneva conference the Washington arms treaty provisions affecting battleship and cruiser tonnage.

Declaration by Viscount Ishii, a Japanese delegate at Geneva, that he recognized merit in the British plan and had asked his government for instructions whether to support it gave officials only slight concern and served merely to add emphasis to their opposition.

The reiterated contention of the administration is that there would be little value in revising now a treaty which in all probability will again be changed in 1931 with the participation of all five signatories. Furthermore, any revision of capital ship tonnage would not become effective until 1931, when first replacements are possible under the 1922 treaty.

It was believed here that the Japanese government would not consent to formal consideration by the three-power conference of the British plan, but might authorize its delegation to discuss it informally with a view to preparing material for the 1931 meeting.

Finally it was stressed that any agreement must be unanimous, and that this would be impossible since the United States would not alter its position.

JAPAN DRIVES BARGAIN WITH GREAT BRITAIN.
By HENRY WALKER.
Geneva, June 27.—The Japanese delegation already has received instructions from the home government at Tokyo permitting it to support the British demands which insist on discussing a reduction in the size and gun power of capital ships and air-plane carriers, and increasing their length of life, it was reliably stated here today.

Admiral Saito and Viscount Ishii are holding up announcement of receipt of these cabled instructions.

2 YOUNG BANDITS FOILED BY OWNER OF WIENER STAND

Two daring and sleek-haired young bandits, early Monday night, entered a wiener stand at 11 Auburn avenue operated by John M. Johns, but were foiled by the proprietor in their attempt to rifle the cash register.

The two youths, neither apparently over 20 years of age, entered the stand at about 8:40, ordered two drinks from the proprietor and while Johns was opening the bottles, one of them opened the cash register. Mr. Johns, hearing the register open, turned and quickly closed the cash drawer on the bandit's hand. When the other would-be thief pulled out a revolver and began to shoot, Mr. Johns drew his own revolver and fired, the two youths running out toward North Pryor street. Several shots were exchanged and a white way light smashed by one of the bullets, police were told. The bandits separated at Pryor street, it is said, one going toward Peachtree street and the other in the direction of Edgewood avenue. Detectives J. C. Davis and W. J. Anderson were assigned to investigate.

CUTCLIFFE HELD THOUGH GIVEN FULL PARDON

Judge Thomas Denies Bond to Alleged Bootlegger Freed by Ex-Governor Walker.

SUPREME COURT MAY GET CASE

Defendant Kept in Sheriff's Custody at Request of Solicitor General Boykin.

Judge E. D. Thomas, of the Fulton superior court, Monday afternoon ordered Walter Cutcliffe, alleged bootlegger, held without bond following a pardon issued June 21, 1927, by Governor Clifford Walker freeing Cutcliffe of a sentence which had been suspended.

Application for a writ of habeas corpus will be made this morning, according to Paul L. Lindsay, Cutcliffe's attorney. Should this move to obtain the prisoner's release fail the case will be appealed to the Georgia supreme court, Mr. Lindsay said Monday night.

Cutcliffe was tried on a misdemeanor charge in January, this year, fined and sentenced to eight months on the chain gang, according to Paul L. Lindsay, his attorney. The sentence was suspended on payment of the fine pending good behavior.

On June 21, Cutcliffe's attorney went before the governor asking that he be pardoned as he had been under the suspended sentence six months and was liable at the court's discretion to be ordered to serve his entire sentence. A suspended sentence does not expire, as in the case of a prisoner placed on probation, the attorney told the governor. The pardon was granted by Governor Walker and Monday was offered in court with a request for a court order clearing Cutcliffe's name of the suspended sentence.

Misapprehension Ruled.
Judge Thomas ruled that the pardon was granted under a misapprehension and ordered Cutcliffe held. Cutcliffe is in the custody of Sheriff James Dykes, of Georgia, in marketing their products, in emphasizing the purchase of Georgia products and in assisting the efforts to line up the producers of the state with the home buyers.

Mrs. Sharp, president of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, is especially fitted, through her work with the municipal market, for the position.

PLAN TO LIMIT USE OF WATER REVENUE
Meeting Today Will Consider Plan of Restricting Waterworks Revenue.

Proposal to limit revenue of the Atlanta waterworks strictly to operation and maintenance of the department will be considered again at a meeting of the charter revision committee of city council.

The session will be held at 10 o'clock this afternoon at a meeting of the charter revision committee of city council. The session will be held at 10 o'clock this afternoon at a meeting of the charter revision committee of city council.

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale has given his formal approval to the proposed charter amendment, which if passed by city council will be offered to the Georgia assembly for ratification, and proponents claim that added impetus has been given the paper because of almost universal support of business establishments.

Under the plan increases would be permissible to permit operations, enlargement or expansion of the system, but revenue of the department would be devoted strictly to such items and solely for the department. This would prevent an increase in water rates to assist in financing other departments of the city government, as is now being done through a 50 per cent blanket increase to retire an $800,000 school department deficit.

Organizations expected at the session today to support the proposal are: Atlanta Federation of Trades, Atlanta Improvement association, Atlanta Real Estate board, Atlanta Association of Apartment House Owners, Atlanta Association of Building Owners and Managers, Atlanta Retail Food Dealers association, Georgia Manufacturers association, Georgia Manufacturers association, Journal of Labor, Central Improvement association.

MIAMI GASOLINE FILLING STATIONS REDUCE PRICES

Miami, June 27.—(AP)—Gasoline filling station operators in scattered parts of the city today slashed gas prices from one to four cents a gallon from the prevailing 22-cent price. Several independent stations reduced the amount to 20 cents, while a smaller group lowered to 19 cents, and a few to 18 cents.

Atlanta Woman To Aid Bureau of Markets

MRS. NORMAN SHARP ASSISTANT TO DIRECTOR

MRS. NORMAN SHARP

Mrs. Norman Sharp, of Atlanta, was appointed on Monday by Commissioner of Agriculture Eugene Talmadge, to the position of assistant in the bureau of markets under acting Director Max L. McRae, and will assume her duties in that capacity at the state capital immediately.

Felix Russell, who has served during the latter part of the administration as director of the bureau of markets, announced Monday that he had resigned his post and would not contest the order of Commissioner Talmadge, asking his resignation. He had stated on Saturday that he declined to give up his position due to the "peremptory" manner in which he was commanded to leave.

Mrs. Sharp's special function will be to encourage and assist the housewives of Georgia in marketing their products, in emphasizing the purchase of Georgia products and in assisting the efforts to line up the producers of the state with the home buyers.

Mrs. Sharp, president of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, is especially fitted, through her work with the municipal market, for the position. In the capacity of link between the Georgia producer and the Georgia housewife, the principal duty of this new office through which she will endeavor to encourage the use of green products, Mrs. Sharp will have the cooperation and support of those Atlanta women with whom she has been associated in club work and the additional advantage of having been instrumental in establishing the municipal market and having served for four years as chairman of the market committee of the Atlanta Woman's club.

Chicago, Ill., June 27.—(Special.) James Holliday, Jr., son of the foreign advertising manager of The Atlanta Constitution, died in his room at the Berkshire hotel here today of acute indigestion.

The body was found on the bed tonight. Apparently he had died suddenly while reaching for the telephone on a stand nearby to summon aid.

Mr. Holliday arrived here June 9. James Holliday, Jr., who was found dead in his hotel in Chicago Monday night, had gone to the Illinois city on advertising business. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Holliday, of this city. He was 26 years old.

VETERINARIAN POST IS GIVEN TO RICHARDSON

Peter F. Bahnsen Resigns on Order of New Commissioner of Agriculture.

APPOINTMENT MADE ONLY TEMPORARILY

State Board Has Right To Recommend Man for Permanent Position to Talmadge.

Dr. A. G. Richardson, of Athens, was appointed acting state veterinarian by Eugene Talmadge, new commissioner of agriculture, late Monday afternoon and accepted the appointment announcing that he would arrive in Atlanta Tuesday morning to take up his new duties.

Dr. Richardson will assume the office held for many years by Dr. Peter F. Bahnsen who tendered his resignation to Commissioner Talmadge Monday morning. It was learned that Mr. Talmadge made a request to Dr. Bahnsen that he hand in his resignation and be immediately complied with it.

The new appointment is only temporary as the state veterinary board has the right to recommend a man to Commissioner Talmadge to become state veterinarian permanently and it is only until the board has had a chance to meet that the new appointment was made. This meeting will be held some time in the near future.

The appointee for some time has been connected with the college of agriculture at Athens and according to Mr. Talmadge is considered a leader in his work throughout the south. He further stated that he was delighted to secure a man with the qualifications of Dr. Richardson to assume the duties of state veterinarian.

Dr. Bahnsen's term of office was not ended and he could not have been forced to resign without an act of the legislature. In American practice, he is a pioneer in veterinary work in the state and attracted nationwide attention for his work in the eradication of hog cholera. He has been carrying out in fulfillment of his campaign promises.

Charges of "Third Degree" in Getting Liquor Evidence Shake Whole New York Organization

New York, June 27.—(AP)—Major Chester P. Mills, prohibition administrator for eastern New York and Connecticut, tonight telegraphed his resignation from the prohibition service to Dr. John M. Doran, prohibition commissioner at Washington.

Mr. Mills announced today that he had asked grand jury investigation of the whole situation which resulted in his transfer from his post as prohibition administrator of New York and the suspension of his assistant, Augustus Heise, after charges of third degree methods had been made against Heise.

Albert Briggs, an East Indian now on trial with four former prohibition agents for conspiracy to collect bribes, testified to alleged third degree methods employed by Heise to get evidence, and the treasury department immediately ordered Heise suspended and Mills transferred.

Mills in his statement said that Heise in trying to get evidence against the agents under suspicion from Briggs he had threatened Briggs but had not physically mistreated him.

Heise has my fullest confidence. I would not tolerate for one minute so-called third degree methods.

"In order to fully justify Heise I have asked that this affair be investigated by a grand jury."

Mills, whose administration of prohibition enforcement was under fire in connection with third-degree methods alleged to have been employed by his assistant, Major August Heise, was ordered transferred Saturday from the New York enforcement bureau to the post of zone supervisor for the eastern states.

Two Planes Ready For Hop-Off Today On Pacific Flight

KLAN RESPONSIBLE IN TOCCOA CRIME, SAYS EDITORIAL

Wesleyan Christian Advocate Calls on Secret Order To Discard Regalia in Public.

Charging that the Ku Klux Klan either directly or through the influence of its secret regalia and reputation as a self-appointed guardian of public morals, is responsible for the outrages which have been recently perpetrated against citizens of Stephens county, The Wesleyan Christian Advocate, official organ of the North and South Georgia conferences, in a sensational editorial in its current issue calls upon the Klan to discard its regalia in public.

The editorial also recommends that the state legislature now in session enact a law making it a felony, with a minimum penalty of ten years, for any man or company to appear in public masked and robed. The article also attacks Governor Clifford Walker for remaining inactive in the face of the fact that he expressed indignation at similar occurrences in south Georgia counties after the article says—he held a conference with General Nathan Bedford Forrest, grand dragon of Georgia.

The Rev. A. M. Pierce, widely-known Methodist minister who has filled a number of church appointments throughout the state and who has held several times the position of presiding elder, is editor of The Advocate and signs the editorial.

State's Name Blackened.
The editorial in question deals extensively with the outrages under the title of "The Ku Klux Klan." By way of introduction, it declares that "once again Georgia's name has been blackened, and this time it has been done so often of late that it is coming to wear a perpetual coat of somber hue."

Concerning the outrages themselves—which, according to The Advocate, number "five—some accounts say seven—the editorial charges that they have been "lawless, unjustified, brutal, indecent and gratuitous."

"Must Georgia depend upon such ruffians to defend her civic integrity?" the article asks. "When such is the case she has no claim upon the respect of her sister commonwealths. To approve such brutal cruelty and such shameful indecency would itself constitute flagrant dishonor. When she descends so low, to adopt the words of a great orator, blot from the flag the star that glows to the name of Georgia."

LiquorCrazed Vandals Ruin Works of Art

Loss to Pictures and Other Treasures Placed at $200,000.

New York, June 27.—(United News.)—The long-nursed anger of two servants, unleashed through drink in a Fifth avenue apartment, destroyed more than $200,000 worth of irreplaceable tapestries, paintings and objects of art, many of them centuries old.

It was an act of frenzied, furious vandalism that wrecked the beautiful three-floor apartment of C. Bai Lihne, a retired capitalist and art connoisseur. The trampled, smashed treasures of the place horrified even the police.

Ginger ale bottles had been hurled through the famous Van Dyck masterpiece, "The Lomeilini Family," painted early in the fifteenth century and valued at $100,000.

Reubens' "A Portrait of an Old Man," valued at $15,000, was filled with gaping holes.

The remainder of the apartment, thick with costly and rare objects, looked like an intoxicated army had swept through it. Nothing that could be broken or disfigured had been spared.

Army's Huge Tri-Motored Fokker Monoplane and Ernest Smith's Machine Plan Start.

START OF GRACE WILL BE DELAYED

Youth Now in Honolulu Encounters Troubles With His Propeller and Will Have To Wait.

"Clear Field" Ordered For Flight Today
Oakland, Calif., June 27.—(AP) Officials of the Oakland Municipal airport tonight announced receipt of orders to "have a clear field" for the United States army Hawaii flight plan at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Thousands of motor cars thronged the highways in the vicinity of the airport and many motorists appeared to be planning to stay all night in order to watch the expected take-off in the morning.

BY H. O. THOMPSON.
Oakland Airport, San Leandro Bay, Calif., June 27.—(United News.)—Two planes are ready to take the air in what seems almost certain to develop into a race from California to the Hawaiian Islands.

With the army's huge tri-motored Fokker monoplane turned up, backers of Ernest L. Smith, former air mail pilot, announced that Smith would hop early Tuesday, probably at the time Lieutenants Lester J. Maitland and Albert F. Hegeberger get away in the Fokker.

Richard Grace, a youth of 28, who last Friday arrived in Honolulu from San Francisco with a monoplane built along the lines of Colonel Lindbergh's famous Spirit of St. Louis, seemed out of the three-cornered contest for new aviation honors. Late United News dispatches from Honolulu indicated Grace was encountering fresh troubles in his effort to start a flight from Hawaii to the mainland and that he might be delayed for several days.

Army Plane Moves.
The army Fokker moved from Crissy field here to the Oakland airport, on an arm of San Francisco bay, was being fueled this evening. The plane's tanks have a capacity of 1,700 gallons of gasoline, which was to be put in during the night so that the start toward Hawaii could be made at 5 a. m. Tuesday if weather conditions remain favorable.

The young officers, who will guide the plane over the Pacific wastes, Lieutenants Lester J. Maitland and Albert F. Hegeberger, were restive and anxious for the start.

Hegeberger was at the Oakland field during the afternoon when Maitland, after flying the Fokker across San Francisco bay, returned to San Francisco for a conference with Major General Patrick, chief of the army air corps.

There remained a possibility that General Patrick might accompany Maitland and Hegeberger on the Hawaiian trip. Patrick would not deny this report; neither would he say that he intended to go.

Equipment for the army flight was trucked over to the airport during the morning. The supplies included:

Naming of the standing committees of the state senate by President Dykes and the introduction of a number of new bills featured the brief Monday session of that body.

The session lasted only from 11 to district, was signally honored by being placed on a number of other important committees. His other assignments were to place on the following committees: Banks and banking, commerce and labor, constitutional amendments, corporations, general judiciary, highways, military affairs, public property, railroads, and rules.

Same Rules Adopted.

During the course of the session a resolution was introduced by Senator Elders of the second to adopt the same set of rules as governed the last session of the senate and make them in force for the present session. The resolution was adopted.

The wife of the presiding officer, Mrs. E. B. Dykes, and their daughter, Miss Elaine Dykes, as well as Mrs. J. M. Page, whose husband is a member of the senate, were granted the privilege of the floor for the session when resolution offered by Senator J. B. Jackson was adopted.

One of the most important of the new bills was a measure by Senator Shelby Myrick, of the first, which seeks to create a system of state police for duty on the public roads of the state. The body would be under the control of the highway commission and provides that one-half of the fines collected in cases begun by the state police shall go into the state treasury for the maintenance of the state police body. Counties desiring a state officer especially assigned to them may do so by paying his salary. The bill was assigned to the highway committee.

Another bill introduced at the session by Senator Myrick would make inadmissible any evidence by the state police in violation of the statutes as to constitution of the state.

Bill-Board Regulation.

Still another new bill by the same author would give to the boards of county commissioners the right to regulate the erection of bill-boards within 300 feet of public highways.

A resolution introduced by Senator Kelly of the 51st calls upon the state superintendent of banks to furnish comprehensive and detailed information regarding the liquidation of banks for the past five years. Records of all money taken in by the banking department for this work must be embodied in the report to be submitted to the senate as well as money expended by them in the work. The 21st provides for the office of a lieutenant governor for the state and would make him automatically president of the senate.

A bill by Senator Key of the 28th seeks to develop the peach industry of the state by creating a state board of horticulture to assist in the marketing of the crop.

Senator Kelly of the 51st introduced a bill to repeal the law allowing corporations in the state to issue non-pair stock.

To Protect Children.

Five bills to further aid and protect children in the state were also introduced at the session. They are as follows:

To permit the county appropriating authorities to set aside a fund for the care of dependent children. Provision is made in the bill for protection of the fund and for its administration.

By Senator Peebles of the Eighteenth:

To revise the present juvenile court law, substituting for it a well drafted act, which extends the jurisdiction of the court to the carrying out of the intent of juvenile legislation—the guidance, correction and protection of child life.

By Senator Kelly of the Fifty-first:

To revise present law by establishing certain restrictions, and by requiring investigation of conditions surrounding the transfer of children in adoption and a six months trial period before the adoption is closed.

By Senator Cooke of the Eleventh:

To make non-support and desertion a continuing offense, throwing responsibility on parents until child becomes sixteen years of age. This act drafted by uniform law committee of American Bar association and recommended for adoption in the states.

By Senator Hendrix of the Thirtieth:

To require father to contribute to support of his child born out of wedlock, until child becomes sixteen years of age. This act drafted by uniform law committee of American Bar association and recommended for adoption in the states.

TWO AIRPLANES READY FOR START

rockets and flares, a collapsible lifeboat and an extra propeller. The food rations, consisting of hot soup, bread, concentrated chocolate and possibly a few sandwiches, were to be put aboard later.

Planes Side by Side.

The Fokker and Smith's rebuilt travel air mail and passenger monoplane were placed almost side by side on the airport. The army plane dwarfed its diminutive rival as the machines rested their propeller blades facing the sandy fringes of the field along the bay front.

Edmund Moffett, principal backer of Smith, advised the pilot to get to the airport as early as possible on Tuesday. The Wright-motored Traveler was wheeled out of the airport runway for a test flight late in the afternoon. There is a contrast between these two Hawaiian flight projects which goes further than size.

Smith's plane was rebuilt in three weeks in its small San Francisco machine shop. Its wings were not adjusted until Sunday and the navigation instruments, which Captain Chappie Carter, who will accompany Smith, will use, are largely makeshift.

On the other hand, the Fokker represents years of preparation, with the full resources of the United States army behind it. Money and men have been used unstintingly in this effort of the army to succeed where the navy failed.

Maitland and Hegenberger also will have the help of the newest invention to aid long distance flyers—a radio "beam" device which has just been tested successfully after years of experimentation.

LACK OF PROPELLER POSTPONED FLIGHT.

Honolulu, June 27.—(United News.)—Plans of Richard Gage to hop off for California tonight struck a definite snag when a test flight with an army propeller, installed in place of the cracked blade of his own machine, proved unsatisfactory.

Gage denied reports that extra blades for his plane were packed with the plane when it was carried from San Francisco to Honolulu last week by the steamer Manukia.

It had been rumored that his cracked propeller story was a ruse to permit him to make a secret departure for the mainland and thereby have a start on the two planes at Oakland.

He definitely demonstrated to newspapermen, however, that the original propeller on his ship was cracked and unsafe for the flight.

The borrowed propeller proved too large for Gage's ship, a Ryan type monoplane.

Gage exhibited the cracked wooden blade of his own plane to a United News correspondent, to set at rest rumors that he was merely using the story as a cloak to hide a secret hop-off.

"I will have to wait for the standard size propellers which have been shipped from California," he said.

These are due here tomorrow. By the time they are uncured, a new propeller set in position and a test flight made, a delay of several days may have occurred, he said.

14 AIRPLANES PASS FIRST TEST.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 27.—(AP)—Fourteen airplanes, representing the latest builders have to offer, squatted side by side on the municipal air field tonight, having acquitted themselves well on the first leg of the third national air tour, which is to carry them over 4,110 miles in the east, south and west.

The planes competing for the Edsel B. Ford trophy for cash prizes, are out to demonstrate the reliability of aerial transportation for both passenger and freight.

Twelve of them attained their full point scores on today's run of 232 miles from Detroit. The two that fell slightly short did so because they were less than two minutes behind the time allotted them for the flight and their totals suffered accordingly.

A Stinson monoplane, piloted by Eddie Stinson and carrying five passengers, has assumed the largest handicap and is rewarded by receiving the highest point score, 408.6, which it maintained intact today meeting all tests.

The best time for the hop from Detroit was recorded by a Pittman PA-5, piloted by James G. Ray in an elapsed time of one hour 40 minutes and 50 seconds. It was the first plane to arrive, but was followed closely by Eagle Rock OX-5, which Pilot Floyd P. Cleveland brought across the finish line 1 hour 55 minutes and 57 seconds after it had left Detroit.

NAVAL CONFERENCE IS NEARING ROCKS

on account of having announced this afternoon that they favor England's proposals on the grounds of economy to the taxpayers.

Japan Drives Bargain.

The consensus of opinion is that Japan swung over to back up the London admiralty's proposal after driving a bargain with Great Britain on three points.

First, Japan and Great Britain will act in common in China, thereby ending the open door policy, with the United States powerless to interfere.

Great Britain's break with Russia because of the bolshevik fomentation among Chinese nationalists, and Japan's sanctioning of Marshal Chang Tso-lin's northern army, prepared the line up for their common action.

Second, Great Britain will support Japan's demands for practically an equal ratio for cruisers with the United States, thereby giving Tokyo sufficient light craft for operations throughout the Far Eastern waters.

Great Britain, through claims for special considerations, expects a preponderance of cruisers.

Third, Japan will accept the British construction of the Singapore fleet operations in the west Pacific because it is an accepted fact that a battle fleet can operate but one-third the distance of its cruising radius of 5,200 miles, thus limiting it to 1,700 miles for combat operations. It is 4,000 miles from Hawaii to Japan and 2,500 miles from California to Hawaii.

Guam and the Philippine Islands are 1,400 miles from Japan, but these bases were abandoned by Washington in 1921.

New British Proposal.

Besides reducing the size and power of capital ships, Great Britain has prepared a new proposal to reduce their number from 15-15-9, in the Washington treaty, to 9-9-6. I am informed. The English delegates will stress the economy of this proposal on the grounds that modern capital ship costs $25,000,000. Thus about $210,000,000 will be saved directly in the period for new construction from 1931 to 1940, under terms of the Washington agreement.

Japan's sudden decision to support the British demands that capital ships now fixed at 35,000 tons, be reduced to 20,000 tons, and battle ships from 16 to 12-12 inches and also for the reduction in size of aircraft carriers, confirms the dispatch of last Monday which stated that although England denounced the treaty with Japan in 1921, at Washington beach, the present conference (Lords London and Tokio) united as solidly as ever before.

With the line-up now two to one against the United States for re-opening the question of capital ships and aircraft carriers, which was scheduled for discussion in 1931, when the Washington treaties come up for renewal, the American delegation finds itself out-voted.

"America must either yield to revising the Washington pact or disavow the conference," said one naval expert, after hearing the Japanese pronouncement.

FRENCH INTERESTED IN JAP PEACE PACT.

Geneva, Switzerland, June 27.—(AP) French observers in Geneva are concentrating their attention on reports that Japan may propose a peace pact with the United States similar to that which may be negotiated between France and the United States through M. Briand's initiative. They are in such accord a contribution to peace of something more tangible and more important than agreements to reduce naval armaments.

The newspaper Par, published simultaneously at Geneva and Paris, predicts that the statements eventually will perceive that definite anti-war results can be obtained only by guaranteeing between nations, which not only engage them not to resort to aggression, but also clearly prohibit war.

Since the days of the defunct Geneva protocol the French have been persistently advocating a plan of mutual assistance against an aggressor nation as the only effective way of really preventing war, but doubts are voiced as to whether America would consent to such a clause, either in the projected Franco-American accord, or the mooted Japan-American pact, in view of the failure of the agreement between the United States, Great Britain and France proposed by Woodrow Wilson at the close of the war.

Crisis in Peaches Looms As Production Climbs

Washington, June 27.—(P)—Southern states peach growers have increased their production so greatly in recent years that they are faced with the necessity of letting many trees go out of bearing, or meeting intense competition in overcrowded markets, the department of agriculture today announced as a result of a survey of the situation.

Improved cultural practices and strict grading were recommended as immediate steps to improve conditions. Culling out poor fruit and supplying markets with only the best might accomplish much good, the department said. Such action, accompanied by removal of trees which constantly produce low yields or inferior varieties would benefit both individual growers and the industry as a whole.

A difficult readjustment problem faces the peach industry of the southern states as evidenced by statistics covering production and shipments. Millions of peach trees have been planted in Georgia and in competing states in the last six years. It is estimated that in two years the number of bearing trees in seven southern states will be increased more than 10 per cent even if 20 per cent of the trees that were under 10 years of age in 1925 and all that were 10 years old and older at that time go out of production.

The increase.

Carload shipments from Georgia increased from about 6,000 cars in 1925 to more than 18,000 in 1926. In the same period shipments from North Carolina, South Carolina and Alabama, as well as from competing states to the west, increased heavily. Prices received for southern peaches in the last few years show that from the standpoint of the grower the danger line in production has been generally reached and even exceeded in some states.

There is no doubt that in general, southern peaches might be better distributed in accordance with the consuming capacity of various markets, the department says. It is doubtful whether Georgia can increase very greatly the distribution of its peach crop west of the Mississippi river.

Western Production.

This is checked by the increasing peach production in Texas, Arkansas and California. Nor is it probable, in the view of department experts, that an extensive culling campaign will be developed to make use of southern peaches. It has been found difficult to obtain a dependable quantity of good southern peaches for canning season after season, since as prices are good the growers prefer to sell their crop as fresh fruit.

Thus, ways of dealing with the present overproduction problem are reducible practically to two—improved grading and marketing and reduced production. The present situation has arisen, the department says, from the fact that individual growers have failed to consider their own problem in the light of general conditions and part of the remedy is to correct this error.

GEORGIA STANDS 40TH IN PER CAPITA DEBT

New York, June 27.—(Special).—The state of Georgia has a bonded debt of $4,004,000 which amounts to $1.50 per capita. In gross debt the state ranks 34th among the states of the union, but in per capita debt it ranks 40th.

These facts are brought out in a nationwide survey just completed by the Bank of America, New York, which states that the state governments of the United States have a total bonded debt of $1,846,113,772, or $15.75 per capita.

Nearly half this huge outstanding debt has been incurred within the past five years and in the past two years alone more than $355,000,000 worth of new bonds have been issued, while some $98,000,000 worth have been retired.

Highways and bridge construction is responsible for 45.2 per cent of the total indebtedness, the Bank of America statistics show. The largest single building of roads, Soldiers' bonuses account for $271,528,000, or 14.7 per cent of the total outstanding debt. The largest waterways and harbors come third in the list of purposes for bond issues with a total of $222,508,800, or 12.1 per cent. Only 1.9 per cent of the total debt represents expenditure for education.

New York state's debt of $341,059,000 is the largest of any state in the union. North Carolina ranks second with a debt of $143,392,600 and Illinois third with $137,212,500. Florida, Nebraska, Kentucky and Wisconsin have no bonded debt.

The highest per capita debt of any state in the union is that of South Dakota, amounting to $85.15, or nearly five and one-half times the average for the nation. Oregon is second with $72.49 per capita, North Carolina third with $50.17, North Dakota fourth with $48.12 and Delaware fifth with $45.45.

The Pacific group comprising Washington, Oregon and California have the highest per capita debt of any section, the Bank of America finds in grouping its figures according to the geographical areas of the country. Its debt per inhabitant is $25.93, more than one and a half times the average for the nation. At the opposite end of the country, New England ranks second, having a per capita debt of $22.21.

Below the average for the country as a whole are the mountain states, having a debt of $11.60, the east north central $9.77, east south central $7.22 and west south central with $5.22. All but two of the geographical groups increased their debts within the past two years, decreases being recorded only by the west, south central and mountain divisions.

Civilians Urge Respect for Law At Convention

Nashville, Tenn., June 27.—(P)—Proposed additions to the International "good citizens" pursuits, and receipt of authoritative advice on another major activity, tuberculosis control, left the seventh international convention tonight with two satisfying notches cut on its program.

Combating crime, lawlessness and radicalism, supporting government and public officials in every honest effort to maintain law and order, and constitutional provisions were features added to the present pledge, which already includes voting in every election and obeying all laws.

They were contained in a proclamation approved by officers and trustees at an executive breakfast today.

"We recognize and proclaim the right of every citizen to actively employ all reasonable means to bring about the amendment or repeal of an ordinance, law or constitutional provision which may not conform to his ideas of proper legislation, provided this be done in lawful manner; and we further recognize and proclaim the duty of every citizen to respect and obey all legislation without regard to personal views while the same remains a part of the law of the land," said the proclamation.

If the declaration is approved by the delegates assembled in three-day session here, it will be submitted to a vote of each individual club throughout the country.

Young Woman Hurt in Mystery Automobile Crash

Mystery shrouds a collision between a light coupe and a local bakery truck on DeKalb avenue at Howard street, shortly after 8 o'clock Monday night, when a young woman was seriously injured and the coupe abandoned and completely demolished, according to hospital reports.

The young woman was taken to Grady hospital by a Mr. Butler, an employee of the city shops, and when Call Officers S. B. McGarity and E. W. Ginn went to the hospital to investigate they were refused any information by nurses and doctors, they reported to Captain A. J. Holcombe.

Captain Holcombe then assumed charge of the investigation and was told that the name of the woman was Miss Mary Smith and that she was attached to Wesley Memorial hospital. He was later informed that the injured woman had been transferred from Grady to Wesley Memorial hospital.

Police were informed that the license number of the abandoned coupe was Ga. 477, 1927, and on information from the secretary of state's office it was learned that the license tag had been issued to Myron Scottstringer, who gave Grady hospital as his address.

On information at the hospital, it was learned that Scottstringer is employed in the laboratory of the colored division.

misdeemeanor against him which was docketed for trial in Judge Jesse M. Wood's division of the criminal court of Atlanta on June 21. Cutliffe did not appear for trial. His attorney Monday night said that he was out of the city and had not been notified that his case was down for trial on that date.

Judge Thomas in his order contended that "Cutliffe, a bootlegger by profession, has been indicted at May, 1927, term of the criminal court of Atlanta for making an assault upon Officer L. S. Henderson."

It was upon the charge of assaulting Officer Henderson that Cutliffe was to stand trial June 21, but the defendant did not appear and Judge Wood ordered his rearrest and raised the amount of the bond to $2,000. Judge Thomas' order set forth.

To Move for Release.

Attorney Lindsay Monday night said that he would move for a writ of habeas corpus today and failing to obtain the writ would file a bill of particulars with the Georgia supreme court.

"It is unheard of," Mr. Lindsay said in commenting on the actions he will take as Cutliffe's attorney, "I know of no precedent in the state for such an invasion by the judiciary of the executive branch of the state government."

"I am preparing a bill to be presented at the present session of the legislature Tuesday or Wednesday to provide for a suspended sentence to expire at the time it would expire if the prisoner had served his term, in the same manner that a sentence would expire when the prisoner was out on probation."

"The way the law reads at present, a court can give a sentence and then suspend it, holding that prisoner under the jurisdiction of the court until such time as the prisoner fits to revoke the suspension and order the prisoner to jail to serve his sentence, or until the governor pardons the prisoner."

Judge Thomas Monday night said in commenting on his order that he ordered Cutliffe held at the request of Solicitor John A. Boykin until Mr. Boykin could thoroughly investigate the law in regard to the case. Mr. Boykin late Monday afternoon refused to go into the holding of Cutliffe.

No Bond Arranged.

Judge Thomas when asked if he had refused bail to Cutliffe said that "none has been arranged." But stated that he expected bond would be given in a day or two. He said that Mr. Boykin would require a couple of days to prepare his case for presentation to the court.

While the order of Judge Thomas cited that Cutliffe had been sentenced in January to 12 months on the chain gang, Mr. Lindsay Monday night stated that the prisoner was sentenced to only eight months and that he cited to the governor that Cutliffe had been under his suspended sentence almost the length of the sentence. Mr. Lindsay positively declared that he did not request a pardon on the grounds of good behavior, as the court's order holding Cutliffe was not a suspended sentence, but a sentence almost the length of the sentence. The only question was that the suspended sentence did not run out and that the prisoner was liable to have the suspension revoked and be ordered to serve his term at the pleasure of the court, the attorney stated.

ADVERTISING IS LIFE OF TRADE, SAYS BODY

Denver, June 27.—(P)—Advertising and not competition has become the life of trade.

Attended by what the registration bureau estimated at between 1,600 and 2,000 specialized advocates of publicity, the International Advertising convention today entered into the business of exchanging ideas on the values of advertising space and the power of the printed word in increasing prosperity and stabilizing the industrial life of America.

Chief among the topics of interest was that of the advertising dictatorship plan which was attacked from angles by President C. K. Woodbridge at the opening session of the convention this morning. The plan proposes to place at the head of the advertising business a czar such as the movie and baseball worlds have. He denounced the idea as impossible and said the idea of a czar of the advertising world should never find serious consideration on the floor of the convention.

If churches do not advertise their "wares"—spiritual upbuilding and moral betterment for both the individual and humanity—they cannot hope to arouse interest among the masses and fulfill the obligations placed upon them as members of their denominations and as parties to the general spiritual movement.

It was agreed generally that newspaper advertising afforded the best medium for the churches in giving publicity to church work. Professor Edward H. Gardner, of the University of Wisconsin, spoke on psychology in church advertising.

All Entries to Participate In Final 'Right-Ad' Contest

Every ad or idea received before noon Friday will be given the same chance as former prize-winning ads in awarding the final cash prizes of $300, $200, $100 and $50 in the Constitution's $4,000 Amateur Ad-Writing Contest. All former prize-winning ads and every ad received before the close will be painstakingly considered by the 10 disinterested experts who will serve as final judges.

In order to be eligible for winning one of the special prizes, it is not necessary that readers have one ad for each contest firm to their credit by the close of the contest. This rule applies to the four grand cash prizes only. A newcomer might win one of the special prizes with a single idea. The 121 winners for the past week will be made known tomorrow, when a number of the ads will be published.

Every one stands an equal chance of winning one or more of the final cash or special prizes. All contestants are on an equal footing, for amateurs alone compete. Everyone's chance is the same because ideas, not technicalities, control awards. Any way of presenting one's thoughts on paper is suitable. There are no entry fees or obligations either now or later. Ads and ideas can be mailed to the "Right-Ad" editor.

Tips for contestants follow:

Stewart's. With the final grand prizes just five days away, the following points are given in review:

Stewart's, distinguished as the store carrying the largest shoe stock in the state, has served this community with dependable footwear for 17 years. On the four selling floors of this store are found shoes to fit the needs of every member of the family—dependable, well-fitting shoes in every price range.

Dr. R. A. Parker is foot specialist at this store. His department is one of the largest in the south, if not the largest.

Eisenman's. See if you can't write the $300 prize ad for Eisenman's. Here is an institution that has a background of 50 years' service to the men of this community—an institution that has as its guiding principles true friendship and the fairest dealing.

At Eisenman's service means something more than selling you the best clothing. Of course, it means that, but it also means a cordial feeling of good fellowship. Men go to Eisenman's when they haven't a purchase to make—when they just want to visit.

M. Rich & Bros. Co. In your final ad for Rich's talk about the friendliness, warmth and courtesy of this great store, which has been a "southern institution for 60 years."

The saying or policy, "The Customer Is Always Right," takes on a new meaning at Rich's. It is really surprising to what ends this store goes to satisfy customers. As a matter of fact, the customer must be satisfied.

Then, too, as many writers have already indicated, M. Rich & Bros. Co. is noteworthy for the extra service it renders. There is the free parking service, the free shopping service conducted by Penelope Penn, use of the nursery and playground, not to mention the multitude of services a person might expect a store of this kind to render.

Blyth, Witter & Co. From the standpoint of the investor, a very important difference exists between the ownership of bonds, notes or debentures and the ownership of preferred and common stock. Bonds are evidences of money loaned to the

BANK DEPARTMENT RECORDS SOUGHT

Senate investigation into the activities of the state banking department was sought on Monday in a resolution introduced by Senator John I. Kelley, of the fifty-first district, in which the banking department would be required to submit to the senate a complete report of its activities for the past five years in liquidating state banks.

No action was taken on the measure, as it must lie on the table a day before being discussed on the floor of the senate.

It was learned that the resolution was introduced because of rumors that have circulated to the effect that excessive fees and expenses have been paid in the liquidation of state banks by the banking department.

Four items are called for in the information sought:

1.—A list of all banks that have been liquidated by the department during the past five years, or that were closed and subsequently reopened.

2.—A detailed statement of the gross assets of the liquidated assets of each liquidated bank; the gross amount received as fees in the work; the amounts paid auditors and attorneys; the amounts paid stockholders and creditors and the amounts paid depositors.

3.—A list of all attorneys that have represented the department for the past five years along with the amount of fees paid them and a statement of from what source the fees were derived.

4.—The cost of liquidating each bank since 1920, showing each item of expense.

Nation's recognition accomplishments attained in the health campaign carried on in the schools of Athens, Ga., and Clarke county has been given through the editorial columns of "The Survey," national welfare journal.

"The Survey" calls attention to the unique record of 100 per cent dental corrections in the five white elementary schools of Athens shown early in May for the total enrollment of 1,500. High tribute to this and other features of the health campaign is paid by the periodical.

ADMITTANCE TO BAR SOUGHT BY NEGRESS

Twenty-one applicants for admission to the bar in Georgia will stand an examination Wednesday morning which will be conducted by Judge John D. Humphries, senior judge of Fulton superior court.

Included in this number is the first negro woman to make an application in Georgia to stand the examination. The negress, who gave her name as Savannah Blackwell, of Augusta, set forth in her petition that she was a graduate of the John S. Langston School of Law, with the degree of LL. B., and had taken post-graduate work at the Howard School of Law.

KENNEDY AND JENTZEN REELECTION PREDICTED

Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, John Jentzen, chief of the city sanitary department, and their entire staffs are slated for reelection for another two-year term at a meeting of the sanitary committee of city council, according to an unofficial poll Monday.

The session will be held at the city hall at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Although members of the committee declined to be quoted directly concerning the impending election they declared unequivocally that no opposition is in sight for either of the chiefs, both of whom are veterans in the service, having spent about 35 years each in their respective divisions.

Dr. Kennedy has been head of his department for 28 years, while Chief Jentzen has held his position for 25. Dr. Henry C. Martin is slated for reelection as director of the laboratory of hygiene, and Jim Simpson as assistant sanitary chief. Both also are veterans at their respective posts.

Members of the sanitary committee are Frank Reynolds, chairman; P. L. Moon, W. Guy Dobbs, J. Allen Couch and W. R. Johnson.

Fair City Hall Workers to Form New Association

Pep and city hall pulchritude—minus the proverbially meaningless speech of women—are expected to feature the organization meeting of women employees of the city hall, according to announcement Monday.

The women will gather promptly at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and will select a name and officers for the new association.

Miss Mae Rencow, secretary to Chief of Construction William A. Hensell, issued the circular Monday calling the meeting, which is an outgrowth of a gathering of women employees of the city hall called last week by Mayor J. N. Ragsdale.

"For Women Only" will be the slogan, with males barred. Just whether the organization plans to give courses in practical politics or is a move designed for the purpose of cementing friendships among the women and discussion of problems of respective departments is a matter of conjecture. Reliable reports, however, were that through this medium the women will elect to improve their efficiency in city government for the benefit of the Atlanta public, which they serve.

M'CLELLAND TO GIVE POCAHONTAS ORATION

John S. McClelland will deliver the Flag day oration for Silver Cane council No. 1, Pocahontas, at the Red Men's Wigwam on Central avenue, at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night, June 29.

This will be the first annual Flag day service to be held by the organization. A special degree team of seven ladies will carry out the ritualistic work. All Red Men, Pocahontas and the public are invited.

ATLANTA COUPLE SERIOUSLY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Griffin, Ga., June 27.—(P)—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Laisson, of Atlanta, formerly of Salt Lake City, Utah, were seriously injured and Clayton Bankston, Barnesville, had a leg broken as a result of an automobile collision three miles north of here yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Laisson and Bankston were reported as being improved tonight, but Mr. Laisson continues unconscious and is in a critical condition, physicians say.

The crash occurred after the driver of a third car attempted to dart between the automobiles driven by Laisson and Bankston just as the latter were meeting on the highway, of which it was said.

The three injured persons were in a local hospital today. Physicians said Laisson's skull may be fractured, while they believed his wife suffered internal injuries.

The collision happened on the Atlanta-Macon highway. The Laissons were returning from Fort Valley. Mrs. Laisson is a sister of Major P. D. Parkinson, Washington, D. C., who has been summoned here. The Laissons had been married only a short time.

Minister of Gospel, Formerly Doctor, Praises Powers of Mineral-Tone

Has Known Its Medicinal Value 40 years, Says Rev. Chastain

REV. G. L. CHASTAIN.

Again there comes from high authority praise for "Mineral-Tone" and its power to relieve the ills of mankind, as the Reverend G. L. Chastain, Pastor of the St. John M. E. Church, of LaGrange, Georgia, writes to tell of his experience through forty years with the God-given remedy. Dr. Chastain is doubly a Doctor, having been a healer of the body before he became a healer of souls. As a young man he was practicing medicine in the section where Nature has placed the only known deposit of Mineral-Tone. During his medical practice there he encountered the amazing natural mineral, and saw how swiftly it goes to the seat of the most stubborn ailments and removes them.

He holds out tremendous new hope to all those who have suffered for years, and have found man-made remedies unavailing. For Mineral-Tone, as Doctor Chastain points out, is a natural remedy, its health-giving minerals fused together by a Divine Providence, in the heart of Turkey Mountain.

Watch These Danger Signals! Do you need Mineral-Tone? Ask yourself these questions. It may be the means of saving you many years of agony and torture. Have you rheumatism, stomach trouble, eczema, boils or any one of the many ailments arising from weak, run-down and impure blood? If you have, Mineral-Tone can help you on the way to health again by purifying your blood, building up the red corpuscles, putting iron into your blood-stream, making it strong and able to throw off the poisons that are dragging you down, weakening you to the attacks of the disease germs that course through your system.

Do you feel dull and depressed at times? Do you have headaches, backaches? Is your skin blotchy or broken out? Do you get up in the morning still tired and weary? Do you sleep badly, tossing and turning? Does food disagree with you, causing gas and bloating? Are you tormented with rheumatic twinges at times? Are you losing weight, despite everything you can do? Watch these symptoms. They warn you of impending disease and unhappiness. Check them before they go further. Take Mineral-Tone to build up your strength, to guard you against the encroachments of terrible ailments. Take Mineral-Tone to get well and keep well and happy, as many hundreds have.

Take a package according to directions. If it does not relieve you promptly, come back and get your money. What could be fairer than that? Ask your suffering neighbors who have tried Mineral-Tone. They know. Many of them have written to tell how they were helped, as you will write when Mineral-Tone has helped you, too.

"I am not much of a believer in the general run of patent medicines, there are so many manufactured and so few of merit. I believe in Mineral-Tone because it is a product of Nature, its medicinal value is natural, the medicines in mineral form are fused together by Nature. It is natural, and God, the Creator of all things, is the Creator of Nature. I am glad to tell you what I know about Mineral-Tone, and believe those who take it will be benefited."

"Sincerely yours,
(Signed)

ATLANTA CIVITAN FEATURE SPEAKER

Joel C. Hunter, representing the Civitan Club of Atlanta, will be a featured speaker this morning on the program of the International Civitan convention which convened at Nashville Monday. The topic of his address will be "Selling Civitan."

The convention opened Monday morning at the War Memorial hall in Nashville with addresses of welcome from Austin Peay, governor of Tennessee; Hilary E. Howe, mayor of Nashville; Walter M. Cameron, president of the Tennessee Association of Civitan Clubs; and J. M. Vaughn, president of the Nashville club. Dr. Herbert Acuff, of Knoxville, head of the international association, delivered the annual president's message, and a number of reports and discussions were also included on the first day's program. Through the three-day session of the convention will be held a series of conferences, discussions and round-tables, touching many phases of civic problems and civitan activities. The official program of Civitan International, adopted last year at the Philadelphia convention, emphasizes two points—the prevention of tuberculosis and the suppression of crime. Addresses on these two topics are scheduled on the convention program by United States Senator Hugo L. Black, of Alabama, and Dr. W. S. Rankin, eminent physician of Charlotte, N. C.

A round of social functions has been planned for delegates and their families, who number more than 1,000 and represent 165 civitan clubs.

The group from Atlanta includes Joel Hunter and Josiah T. Rose, delegates; St. George P. Rathbone, Dr. and Mrs. W. Earl Quillian and others.

SUNSHINE, SLIGHT CHANCE FOR RAIN, FORECAST TODAY

Prevailing clear weather with slight changes for showers in the afternoon is today's forecast for Atlanta and vicinity, according to C. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist of the government bureau.

Both higher and lower temperature extremes were scheduled to forecast.

Monday witnessed a small range of the mercury column, the weatherman stated. The thermometer indicator started with a low of 69 degrees and was held to a minimum of 70 degrees by easterly breezes that swept over the city. While today's temperature range will be considerably wider—probably between 61 and 80 degrees—the gentle easterly breezes are expected to continue, Mr. von Herrmann said.

Young, who will be heard by the federal grand jury at Gainesville Tuesday on charges of motor vehicle theft act violation.

Brockway will be paid $30 for his month's stay in the tower when he testifies before the grand jury, it was said. His connection with the case comes from his alleged ride from Pennsylvania to Georgia with Young in a stolen automobile.

ALLEGED DRUNKEN DRIVER GETS FINE AND JAIL SENTENCE

Callaway, of records, today sentenced one as punishment a fine of $50, a 30-day stockade sentence and the fixing of bond at $300, to assure his appearance in city criminal court, to Lynn Roper, 233 Mills street, on a combination of charges.

Roper's automobile crashed into that of Jesse B. Lee, city fireman and former member of council, parked in front of the Payne Memorial church Sunday afternoon. Lee held Roper until police arrived and testified that Roper was in an intoxicated condition.

NEGRO GETS 10 YEARS ON 2 THEFT CHARGES

Charlie Williams, negro, charged with burglarizing a local life insurance office from which he took two typewriters, was found guilty Monday morning by a jury in the second criminal division of Fulton superior court and was sentenced to serve 10 years on the chain-gang.

Sentence was imposed by Judge John B. Hutcheson, of the Stone Mountain circuit, who is presiding in the absence of Judge G. H. Howard.

The negro was indicted in two cases in connection with stealing the machines and was given sentences of five years in each case, one term to follow the other.

NISBET BOND DECISION WILL BE GIVEN TODAY

Decision on an application for bond for Mrs. Grace Nisbet, held in a local hospital under guard in connection with the death of her husband, C. D. Nisbet, will be rendered this morning by Judge Virlyn B. Moore, of Fulton superior court.

Following a hearing Monday morning at which Sam Hewlett, attorney for Mrs. Nisbet, declared that he could present affidavits which would prove that Mrs. Nisbet had no connection with her husband's death and arguments by Solicitor General John A. Boykin that he had not had sufficient time to delve into the case, Judge Moore announced that he would take the application under advisement and render his decision Tuesday.

Paul Donehao, Fulton county coroner, attended the hearing and presented the court with a brief of evidence tendered at the coroner's inquest. A coroner's jury recommended that Mrs. Nisbet be held for questioning.

Judge Moore asked that the brief be left in his care for review.

Mrs. Edith Rutledge, sister of Mrs. Nisbet, was brought to the solicitor's office Monday afternoon by Special Investigator Fred Stephens for questioning. The nature of her testimony was not revealed. At a previous conference with Solicitor Boykin she declared that she was at her father's home, a short distance from the Nisbet home, when her sister signaled something was wrong.

When she went to the Nisbet home that Tuesday morning she said that she saw Nisbet lying under his automobile at the entrance to the garage, but believed that he was in a drunken sleep and did not disturb him.

Police Chief L. T. Melton, of Hapeville, and City Detectives Starnes and Lanford are investigating the case but no new clues had been unearthed late Monday.

STRUPPER, INC., MOVES TO NEW STATION TODAY

Everett Strupper, Inc., dealers in automobile tires and tubes, and with a large fleet of trucks for road service, moved Monday night from its former location and will open for business this morning in a new home at 536 Spring street, at the intersection of Spring street and Merritts avenue.

In addition to its regular line of Dunlop tires and tubes, and the vulcanizing facilities the new place featured the company's service, the new location has been equipped with the latest washing and lubricating machines, as well as gas and oil pumps. The new place is so arranged that patrons can drive in, have their cars washed and lubricated and their tires repaired with a minimum of time and lost motion.

The new domicile of Everett Strupper, Inc., has more than 6,000 square feet of space and is one of the most modern and up-to-date tire repair, washing and lubricating service stations in the city.

He will remain in the city for several days. He is a former star halfback at Georgia Tech and played on the famous 1917 Jockey team which won national honors.

Other officers of the corporation are H. H. Fleming, credit manager, and E. H. Steele, sales manager.

ADAIR HEARING IN BANKRUPTCY TO BE RESUMED

Hearings in the bankruptcy proceedings of the Adair Realty and Trust company will be resumed on July 18 by Eugene B. Black, receiver, following a recess which has been declared so stenographers can transcribe the court records.

Mr. Black filed his report Monday with Harry Dodd, referee in bankruptcy, regarding the Adair Realty and Loan company, a Florida corporation which is part of the Adair Realty and Trust company, but which is not in bankruptcy itself.

The realty and loan company has been operating successfully under stress of existing circumstances, having shown a net profit of $5,132.62 for the two months previous to March 31, Mr. Black reported. Value of the realty and loan company, to the realty and trust company depends upon the value of its stock, which the latter company owns entirely, it was stated. Assets of the realty and loan firm were listed at $365,348.33.

344,679 car owners say Buick will be their next car

A general and impartial survey of automobile owners recently conducted by a great organization, shows that 344,679 owners of other cars intend to change to Buick next time they buy a motor car.

These owners have compared their cars with Buick—in performance, in economy, in comfort, luxury and dependability. And they have decided that Buick offers greater value.

They have driven Buicks, and know how flexible Buick is in traffic, how easy it is to park, how effortlessly it takes the hills and how it responds instantly to the slightest pressure on the throttle. They marvel at the efficiency of Buick's powerful six-cylinder Valve-in-Head engine, which is vibrationless beyond belief at any speed.

And in all probability, a majority of those who intend to buy Buicks have been influenced in still another way—by the actual experience of their friends who are Buick owners.

Examine a Buick at your earliest opportunity. Find out why so many owners of other cars are changing to Buick every day.

Speaking of Prohibition

BY ZOE BECKLEY

A series of informal discussions giving fresh viewpoints on the nation's most debated topic. Nationally prominent women are presenting their own intelligent, timely observations, their reasons for or against prohibition based on experience. Miss Beck-

We introduce today, with their differing opinions, Judge Mary Barthelme of the Chicago juvenile court, and Judge Jean H. Norris, New York's only woman magistrate. Judge Barthelme is convinced prohibition is a benefit, Judge Norris is certain that it is an evil. Who is right?

JUDGE MARR M. BARTLETT.
"Anna Priznak to the bar! John Priznak! Jennie Priznak!"
Mother, father and daughter line up very scared and solemn before a judge and a little above it, behind which a small, gray-haired woman sits. The gray-haired woman wears a simple black frock with a wide white turnover collar. She is Judge Mary Priznak, one of the few women judges in the country. She now serves as

JUDGE JEAN H. NORRIS.
"In 1914 we were beginning to be a temperate nation—and now look at us!"
Magistrate Jean H. Norris, of New York's only woman judge, has been 17 years a lawyer and eight on the bench. She circuits from city court to another; now the one's day court at Jefferson mas-

judge of the juvenile court of Chicago. "Mrs. Quinlan, the officer here," begins the soft-voiced judge, adjusting her glasses and consulting the report before her, "tells me Jennie has run away. This is the third time. You are her parents, Anna and John. Can't you keep your girl happy at home?"

The Pritznaks both talk at once and Johnnie starts to cry. The little judge

In her black robe on the bench looking stern and spartan, or in chambers in modish frock and dachsh, her hair sleekly shingled, brushed straight back, this very nine person following an age-old culling calling talks to hundreds holds up a hand, quieting them, organizes the speeches with a few gentle encouraging words, and the story of an errant girl proceeds. The look of fear leaves their faces. Jennie starts a hunt for her handkerchief and the judge, knowing it will be in vain, wipes one from a draught of water, apparently without success. But Jennie reaches out and hands it to her with a friendly smile.

"I am too close to it," she snarled, "see the evils of the law too, since I have been with the sentence that opens their eyes to talk of prohibition."

"I am too close to it," she snarled, "see the evils of the law too, since I have been with the sentence that opens their eyes to talk of prohibition."

But finally she did, commencing with the sentence that opens their eyes to talk of prohibition.

Jennie: "Is she drinking in your home, Jennie?" she asks.

"No," Ma'm, not any more, Pa gets it sometimes, but Ma can't afford it. It costs 55 cents a glass. Things are all right home now."

"Why did you go away? Tell me the truth, Jennie."

Jennie drags out a disjointed story of a girl friend who had a job and a room, and a boy friend with a car. There was a trip, an accident, no interview.

Says Drinking Was Declining

"How well I remember in" she says days back in "1910-12" the "when it was common practice have a cocktail with lunch, on two before dinner, a couple of during the meal and perhaps a co after coffee.

"Gradually one saw fewer liquor-taking cocktails. Often it was a glass of beer or thin wine. The drinking became the way of the majorities who had no drinks at luncheon.

"It became bad form to carouse in business hours the reminiscence of the frontier. The saloons were reserved for dinner time and modestly paraded at that.

"We began to hear name of 'pro-

John is working, he volubly explains, as a street car conductor. "Anyhow, I hardly anything," he said. "During the war the company had to reemploy him because of the man shortage. John has never been drunk since. Honest, I swear, not once. Would the company keep him on if he was drunk?"

"Please, Your Honor." "It is the best thing I can do for you."

"For a while after the eighth—"

prohibition officer speaking up. "I have thoroughly investigated the Priznak home and find it clean. Jennie wants to return to it. She realizes her poverty and if she and all her belongings will be agreeable, Jennie will work and contribute to the household." The judge considers. Will Jennie take a place in a family, working day-time and sleeping home? She must do so before she can be released. The judge is a pretty, intelligent, young woman, and she is a

The huge sums of money involved in the liquor interests, the saloon keepers, the gamblers, the prostitutes, the appetites of the weak and the criminal, that keep alive the deluge of blood and misery, are not observed

"See Temptation Everywhere."

"The Volstead Law," Judge N. Went on, "has planted temptation everywhere, debauched the weak, made drunkards of the moderate drinkers, the way to one of the temptations I have ever seen—intoxication, boys and girls, blinded, paralyzed and maimed, and a steady flow to the

"I am no fanatic about it," he asserted. "I came to a family with European background, and no thought of depriving people of wine either in public or private. But in France and Switzerland they do not drink as much as they do in Canada. It is useful when used as a beverage and every one knows it."

"I've added the much wanted prohibition and the temptation to drink."

"I might as well be a beggar," said the man, "as I am now. I have a saloon of a kind that is the cause of misery, cruelty, poverty, suffering and crime. It is not possible to regulate it. The money should be spent on the homes. I do not agree with those who say that the saloon is the cause of the trouble. With the closing of saloons, he became interested in his family and had ambitions for himself. I know it. I see it daily. ## SPOTLIGHTING THE SOLONS

The New Governor Lays His Cards on the Table and Calls a Show-Down

The first message of Governor Hardman to the general assembly was personally read to the joint session yesterday. It was heard by most of the members with absorbed interest and its many particular recommendations will be seriously considered. It was a dignified and comprehensive review of the state's administrative affairs, and confirmed the understanding that Governor Hardman has set his heart upon a strictly "business administration" whose objectives are efficiency with economy.

Since we are not pestered in Georgia with divisive political issues, being almost unanimously a one party state and that only party having but one cohesive principle—the "white supremacy"—there is no excuse for factionalism and every obligation of co-operation to secure to the people the best progressive government with the least wasteful expense.

The bill introduced by Senator Myrick to provide for a state police system proposes what has been seen in the state. Other states have such police, or constabulary, forces and they work the most salutary effects. As agencies for law enforcement they keep local authorities on the job and they are deterrents of crime because of their mobility and the habit they soon acquire of making it their rule to "do up" any man who escapes. A state police flying squad, unrelated to and uncontrolled by local prejudices, would go far to abolish mob floozings and lynchings in Georgia. State constables, as a rule, play no favorites and usually "get their man."

Much favorable comment is accorded the bill by Senator Jackson to reassert and defend the integrity of trial by jury in this state. His bill provides that "no court in the state of Georgia shall have authority to set aside any verdict rendered by a jury on more technicalities than do not affect the merits of the case, where it satisfactorily appears from the record that substantial justice has been done by the verdict in any case."

That is good old-fashioned jurisprudence and justice. The prohibition would apply to appellate as well as trial courts and would cure a crying evil that now afflicts the judicial system of the state.

One committee of the senate has 24 members, which is only two less than a quorum of the entire body. But, that's not all of the state's other committee has 26 members, which is the quorum, and another has 29 members, which is three more than a quorum. To the man up a tree it looks like it would be more economical of time and labor to consider the bills referable to those committees in "committee of the whole." Doubtless precedent and senatorial courtesy have their proper influence, but when they result in such large and unwieldy committees they do not serve the best interests of legislation.

It is considered to have been a happy decision by Governor Hardman to keep John Wilson as secretary to the executive. By his service through the terms of Governor Wilson, he has angles of the state government, together with its inwards and outwards, have become like his a-b-c's to John Wilson. He will prove a mighty dependable helper to the new executive and will make it easier for him to handle necessary contacts with the public visiting the executive office. The many friends of Secretary Wilson are grateful to Governor Hardman for retaining so competent an officer.

JAPANESE ACCUSED OF AIDING CHANG

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Shanghai, June 27.—The Shanghai branch of the Kuomintang today handed General Yamashita, the Japanese chief of staff, who is inspecting conditions here in behalf of Premier Tanaka, a proclamation charging that the Japanese troops were dispatched to Shanghai province for the purpose of enabling Marshal Chang Tso-lin to maintain the dictatorship of north China. The Kuomintang also makes a personal charge against General Yamashita, claiming that while making his recent trip of inspection between Tientsin and Tsinanfu he transported 3,000 Chinese uniforms for use by General Chang Chung-chang's army which the nationalists charge is a "deliberate breach of neutrality, leading to whippy international complications."

The proclamation declares that unless the Japanese troops are moved immediately the anti-Japanese boycott will lead eventually to the breaking off diplomatic relations. The proclamation demands the immediate withdrawal of the troops, cancellation of the Sino-Japanese unequal treaty, and recognition of the Nanking government.

Reports from interior points indicate the spread of the boycott and anti-Japanese agitators. Canton announces the beginning of a boycott July 1, when it will not permit the landing of Japanese goods or the sale of Japanese goods in the Canton shops.

of Women's Clubs of Junior membership and of special committee looking to establishment of psychiatric department in the prison system; member legislative committee State Forestry association, charter member woman's board Ozlehorpe university, president Atlanta Camp Fire Girls, and by appointment of Mayor Ragsdale, member of Bureau of Municipal Research and Atlanta aviation committee.

Monday, replying to a statement made by Commissioner Talmadge, Mr. Boswell made the following statement: "In answer to an article in the papers of Mr. Talmadge, the new commissioner of agriculture, that I had refused to resign as director of the state bureau of markets, I am glad to say I refuse to obey his command, 'I resign immediately.' I want to say that the act passed in 1917 which created the bureau of markets, provided that the commissioner shall appoint a director of the bureau of markets for a term of two years each. The last term which I was appointed to fill expired, past, ended August 21 next. I am a commissioner in my pocket expiring at this time. More than a dozen lawyers who are familiar with the law that created the bureau of markets, voluntarily came to me and told me that there was no doubt in their minds but that the pay for this unexpired time was mine if I demanded it."

"I know that the salary for the unexpired time would come to me if I made a fight for it. I hope that I am above accepting any pay from the state that I could not render service for. The new commissioner says he will not cooperate with me, which would be necessary for me to do good work because the law gives him the right to employ the help in the office and receive their pay from the department of agriculture, though my pay comes from a special appropriation from the general assembly that the commissioner has nothing to do with."

"The state bureau of markets is a good department and doing a fine work in marketing the agricultural crops of Georgia. I would not disturb this work by contending with them over a small amount."

"I was appointed director of the state bureau of markets last fall and after coming in I found that every cent that was appropriated for 1926 had been spent. I figured many days as to how I could start up the work, since we were getting letters in great quantities begging us to print the bulletin and sell other stuff in card-board jobs. I reduced the pay roll from about eight thousand ($8,000) dollars per month to five thousand and two hundred ($5,200) per month. I called those still on the pay roll together and said to them: 'We have three or four thousand and five hundred ($37,500) dollars for the six months of 1927 that we will be in office. If you who are still on the pay roll work all of December without any pay, I will increase your pay in January, February and March sufficiently to pay you for your December work, for I believe I can take the appropriation that will come to us for the first half of 1927 and carry on the work for seven months. I did it and paid all expenses while I was in the department, not touching one cent of the amount of the appropriation which was coming to Mr. Talmadge for the last six months."

"No, I would not disturb the work of the bureau of markets for the collection of two months' salary. I hope the new administration will give the agricultural interest of Georgia the service that there are so much in need of. The real worth of the bureau of markets is in selling the farm products, so as to get them a living price for what they produce."

"It was my purpose to tender my resignation but just did not like the idea of being commanded to do so, while my commission extended to August 21, 1927."

Milton C. Work's Pointer On How To Play Bridge

Milton C. Work, the international bridge authority, will answer your auction bridge questions. A stamped self-addressed envelope must accompany each request for replies.

The pointer for today is:
The holder of a five-card Ace-Queen-Jack suit without side strength should bid initially; but with Ace-Queen-Ten he should pass.

My answer slip reads:
No. 1. South (Dealer) should pass.
No. 2. South one Heart; West should bid one Spade.

No. 3. South one Heart; West should pass.
No. 4. South one No Trump, West double, North two No Trumps; East should bid two Spades.

My reasons in support of these declarations are:

No. 1. The initial bid of one of a suit shows two quick tricks or the equivalent. Ace-Queen-Jack will produce two high-card tricks on the first three rounds, and whenever the adverse King is not on the left it will take three; so it is classed as a bid-able holding, but Ace-Queen-Ten is not, unless it be accompanied by side strength.

No. 2. A bid made after an adverse suit declaration on the right requires less strength than an original bid. It does not show two quick tricks, but does show more than one.

No. 3. Should pass to show normal support for partner's Hearts. A Spade bid would deny that support, and the Spade suit is not as 1-4-3 that it is vitally important it be named.

No. 4. The double by West asked for a Major take-out if East had a four-card Major. North's two No Trumps was an effort to shut out a bid by East and relieve him of the necessity of answering West's double; but having five Spades with three honors, opposite a dependable doubting partner, East is too strong to be shut out as game as Spades is possible.

RED FERN PLEASED WITH TEST FLIGHT

Hollywood, Cal., June 27.—(United News.)—Possibility that the 10 to 25 per cent cut in salaries of all employees of motion picture studios might be rescinded tomorrow Monday night as the result of a meeting of the Motion Picture Producers' association.

Although no official announcement was forthcoming it was understood that producers, alarmed by the resentment shown by prominent members of the film colony, discussed the feasibility of postponing action on the reduction.

The plane will carry a load of more than 3,000 pounds and has a gas capacity of more than 400 gallons. Eddie Stinson and W. P. Thousands of Detroiters witnessed the test flight of Redfern today, which was an added attraction to the start of the national air tour.

For Grouchy Husbands

What an old bear he is when he comes home from work in the evenings! Of course he's been working hard all day, and the trip home has probably been trying—but then, your day has been trying, too, and you're cheerful and pleasant. You don't realize, perhaps, that it was that cup of RIDGWAYS TEA you stopped for at five o'clock that makes the difference between your temper and his. You don't get any excuse for his biting your head off and growling.

Well, then, tomorrow suppose you try this simple remedy for grouchy husbands that other wives have found works just like a charm. Tomorrow night when he comes home, offer him a freshly brewed cup of RIDGWAYS TEA. Give it to him just as he likes it—with sugar and cream or lemon. He'll probably say he doesn't want it at first. He'll growl just as usual. But as soon as that delicious, stimulating flavor reaches him, he'll change his mind. Two minutes later he'll be a different man. He'll feel warmed and soothed inside. His worries will somehow melt away. He'll feel revived, refreshed, comforted—even cheerful. In another minute he'll beam at you and be his own sweet self again.

Any one of the three perfect blends of RIDGWAYS TEA can do this. Their world-famous flavor and refreshing goodness have saved many a man's temper and many a woman's disposition!

"The First Thing You Think Of"—RIDGWAYS TEA

By Elizabeth York Miller

SYNOPSIS.
A small band of crooks, with a solitary fragment of respectability among them, arrives at Grantwick, the home of Sir Adrian Shale, one of England's richest men. The band consists of pretty Mrs. Winchell, Uncle Charles Montague, Beauty Bill Gibbons and Doris Winchell, who poses as the widow's daughter and who possesses the only bit of respectability in the party. Doris had been a charity child of an orphanage and later a slavey in a paragon, from which she had been rescued by Mrs. Winchell and Uncle Charles.

INSTALLMENT II.

WHEREIN A GHOST APPEARS.

It was rather a shabby little house, and often it was shut up for months at a time, but somehow they always contrived to pay the rent, whatever happened. And there, Mrs. Winchell and Uncle Charles would sink into tired, slumped ease before their own fireside, making plans for the summer or winter campaign. Uncle Charles, with his old brain pipe and a stubby bit of pencil to mark his fancy in tomorrow's sporting events. Mrs. Winchell, whose familiar name was Mimi, mending a sock and quite likely smoking a cigarette at the same time, while she begged her husband kindly to remember that whatever brilliant ideas he had up his sleeve, there must be no possibilities in them for landing himself or her in prison again.

Mimi's nerve was broken as regarded prison. Twice she had "gone up" for short stretches. Once for a common thing like shoplifting, which did not pass successfully for kleptomaniacs, and once for an error of judgment on Uncle Charles's part. He had put her up to something which the offended party described in court as attempted blackmail, and the jury agreed with him. Mimi got six months on that occasion, but she hoped never again to see the horrid place.

The introduction of Beauty Bill to their select company occurred when Doris was 17. They had had other friends, other affections, but none more satisfactory than that of the young man who was received in Grantwick as wealthy, lecherous Mr. William Gibbons. The four of them formed an ideal combination. There was ripe wisdom and there was gentle maturing beauty; there was mainly youth and one shred of honest to heaven innocence.

The plot against Sir Adrian Shale, millionaire of Grantwick, was straight forward and simple. It was almost too simple to succeed. It amounted merely to this: The gang knew Lady Shale was not dead and decently buried in the English cemetery of that retired little Italian town where she was supposed to have died. The gang knew she was very much alive, although apparently not in a position to acknowledge her continued existence.

The news had been stumbled upon accidentally, as is often the case with matters of importance. Mimi—Mrs. Winchell—was the stumbler. She possessed an uncanny knack of it. Mrs. Winchell was not dead and decently buried in the English cemetery of that retired little Italian town where she was supposed to have died. The gang knew she was very much alive, although apparently not in a position to acknowledge her continued existence.

Mimi had flair, feeling, instinct. Whatever one likes to call it. She had experienced that feeling in excelsis for quite two days before she stumbled upon Lady Shale much as she had stumbled on the bagful of sovereigns. And it could tell that it had been an idle impulse? Is the work of an intelligent cooer spaniel, nosing the hedge rows, impulse? Instinct is a better word.

Mimi had met Lady Shale at a fashionable charity fete in London, and at the same time had met Lady Shale's great friend from whom afterwards she had obtained a letter of introduction to Sir Adrian.

How Mimi happened to be assisting at that fete is another story, although not a long one.

The underworld and the underworld are not so severely separated as they should be. In London, more than in any other great city, they touch more frequently than might be supposed, although sometimes the touching is inadvertent.

To cut a short story even shorter, there was no chance of Mimi's failing to recognize Lady Shale; no chance of the latter's passing Mimi and failing to see her.

Simpson - Gault Match Features Afternoon

Defending Champion Beats Foe in Hot Battle—Mooney And Grant Come Through in Ease at Net Club.

BY WHITNER CARY.

Malon Courts, Jack Simpson, Jack Mooney and Bryan Grant gained their semi-final brackets Monday afternoon in the city tennis tournament now in progress on the courts of the Atlanta Tennis club. The afternoon also saw the start of the men's doubles and a continuation in the junior and boys' events.

With the exception of the long and hard fought three-set encounter in which Jack Simpson, the defending champion, defeated Harry Gault, none of the rounds before semi-final matches were particularly close.

Simpson had a busy afternoon and until the middle of the second set things looked decidedly unpromising for the titleholder. Gault won the first set after a terrific struggle by the score of 8-6 and at once jumped into a two-love lead in the second. He was playing very steady tennis.

At one time in this set Simpson was trailing by the count of 4-3 and was within 1 point of having the score 5-3. He made a game rally at this point and finally ran that game out to even the count at 4-4. He ran out the next two games to square the score in sets.

Starting the third set it was apparent that Simpson was improving while the strenuous efforts of winning that first set and making a determined bid in the second had taken a great deal of pep out of Gault. Continuing the splendid play he displayed in the closing stages of the second set, Simpson quickly ran the concluding number out at 6-2.

The Courts-Brannon Battle. Malon Courts and Bill Brannon had quite a baseline duel in the first set, which finally went to Malon at 7-5. He found the going much easier in the second and was home at 6-3.

Neither Jack Mooney or Bryan Grant were extended in their matches. The former sliced his way to a 6-0, 6-2 victory over Kels Boland, while Bryan disposed of Brit Knox 6-1, 6-3. The semi-finals will be played Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the tennis club. Grant will meet Simpson and Mooney and Courts will clash.

The men's doubles, which got under way Monday afternoon, will also be continued at 4:30 Tuesday. The management requests that all players be ready to play at this hour.

Other results follow:

Men's Doubles. Cooper and Yancy defeated Harrison and Knox, 6-8, 6-3, 6-1. Courts and Grant defeated Wilmer and Duckworth, 6-4, 6-1.

Junior Singles. Bryan Grant defeated Fred Hazen, 6-0, 6-1. Nathan Brandon defeated R. McGinity, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2. Louis Corrigan defeated Bill Finley, 6-4, 6-2, 8-6.

Boys' Singles. Billy Dredger defeated Willie Leide, 6-1, 6-0. Jack Boykin defeated James Halverstadt, 11-9, 6-3. Fincher McDaniel defeated J. C. Coniff, 6-1, 6-3. A. Halverstadt defeated Frank Wilson, 6-0, 6-4.

Boys' Doubles. Sid Golden defeated Bob Hare, 6-2, 6-1. Bryan Grant defeated B. Brandon, 6-1, 7-5. Bill Dredger defeated Louis Corrigan, 6-0, 6-2. A. Halverstadt defeated Sid Golden by default.

Finals Today In Sandlot Golf Tourney

Max Smith Is Low Medalist In Qualifying Round.

Max Smith, low medalist with a score of 73 in the qualifying round of the American Legion sandlot golf tournament Monday, will tee off in the championship round at James L. Key golf course at 9:05 o'clock this morning matched against R. L. Morris, who shot a 76 to qualify; Fred Owens, 78, and Edward Saxe, 78.

Thirty-six youngsters, all under 17 years of age, qualified in the preliminary round Monday for the championship play today. It was announced last night by Jim Harrison, chairman of the American Legion golf tournament committee.

The championship, with a handsome silver loving cup awarded by the park committee of city council, will be determined by medal play, but the league committee matched off the competitors in foursomes according to their scoring in the qualifying round in order to stimulate evenly matched and hard playing in the finals.

Good Sportsmanship. The league's athletic program is aimed to encourage good sportsmanship and we expect to see the last foursome scrap as hard to avoid the booty prize as the top-notchers do to determine the sandlot championship, Mr. Harrison asserted.

Oscar Cox, legionnaire who holds a trifurcal of golf cups and prizes, will deliver a brief address to the 36 contestants on sportsmanship at 9 o'clock, before the first foursome gets away on the 18-hole grid for the championship.

The championship cup will be presented to the winner by L. L. Wallis, general manager of the parks department, in brief ceremonies at 1 o'clock this afternoon, and at the same time three other prizes will be presented, one for Max Smith, the low medalist, donated by Al Martin; one for the runner-up, donated by Atlanta post of American Legion, and one for the third-place winner, donated by Al Martin.

American Legion medals of junior athletic achievement will be awarded to the four prize winners, formal presentation to be made at the next meeting of Atlanta post.

The others who qualified Monday follow:

Donated Campbell, 79; C. M. Collins, 80; J. P. Barnes, 81; James Davis, 81; J. S. Sullivan, 81; John Smith, 82; Irma Davis, 82; Rayne Howell, 84; Harry Barnes, 85; S. J. McCarry, 87; Harry Barnes, 88; G. B. Hall, 88; Claude English, 90; F. K. Dindley, 91; Carlton Robertson, 91; Harry Pelt, 92; Lester Reed, 92; H. D. Nash, 93; George Proctor, 93; Henry Burton, 93; J. J. Nicholson, 94; Thomas Harper, 94; Lillian Jones, 95; John Christie, 96; Merrell Gault, 96; R. McCormack, 96; T. Carter, 99; T. W. Barnes, 99; Clyde Higginbotham, 99; O. L. Union, 99; Joe Mallinson, 99, and C. Simpson, 99.

These two victories put the Reese-Camell team in one of the final brackets.

BERLEY WINS OVER ROMMEL BY KNOCKOUT

New York, June 27.—(United News.)—After two minutes and 33 seconds of fighting Paul Berlenbach, former light-heavyweight champion, scored a technical knockout over Charles Rammell, heavyweight champion of Austria, at St. Nicholas Arena.

Rammell was bleeding freely from the nose and mouth when Berlenbach knocked him down the last time and, although he got to his feet before taking the full count, the referee stopped the fight and awarded the fight to the former champion.

Berlenbach had come out of temporary retirement to meet Rammell in his first engagement since he lost to Mike McTigue last January.

Rammell came out of his corner looking like a sure winner and swarmed over Paul with a series of rights. But Paul was back at him like a flash and the Austrian champion went to pieces.

After 2 minutes and 33 seconds Tommy Sheridan, the referee, stopped the fight to save Rammell from what he considered an inhuman mauling.

BACKERS GO WILD AS NAG WINS; PAYS $365 TO $2

Stable Boys Flop, Woman Swoons, Crowd Swears at Victory.

BY FRENCH LANE. (By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.) Chicago, Ill., June 27.—Holders of mutual tickets on Blue Blood, winner of the first race at the Washington Park track here this afternoon went into hysterics of joy when the prices were posted and disclosed that a "straight" two dollar bet would net the holder $365.10. It was the largest price ever paid on a horse in Illinois and so stunned the 7,000 spectators they could hardly give the sleek chestnut filly a cheer when Jockey L. Hardy brought her back to salute the judge.

One fat gent who held a $2 ticket swooned near the judges' stand as they flew past the finish line. A lady in the clubhouse with a $2 across the board combination ticket which called for $610.20 shrieked so loudly when the odds were posted that Nick Butler, master of the clubhouse ceremonies, had to rush her a cold drink of water to quiet her. A negro stable boy who held another $2 ticket turned flip-flops down by the paddock and there was a chorus from those hundreds who backed the even money favorite, Joe Adams, which sounded something like: "Well, I'll be damned!"

A dozen Blue Blood backers gathered in the betting park garden to cash their tickets.

Blue Blood is a daughter of Polydorus and is owned by Carter Everitt, a young man in the racing game.

According to his friends, Everitt could only muster up enough courage or cash to bet but $20 to win on his two-year-old. He collected $3,651 on his investment. Blue Blood came galloping home two lengths in front of Mosover at 48 to 1, with Trojans at 50 to 1 in third place. Blue Blood paid $128.40 to place (second) and $106.70 to show (third).

Day's entry, queries of a dozen well-known pilots and guesses as to Sig Haugdahl's decision on his automobile, were new developments yesterday in the Independence day speed meet.

One of the sensational little Fronty-Ford jobs is Day's speed chariot, and while he has as yet no imposing list of winnings he has driven it in several fast events. Day brought the car to Atlanta yesterday and expects to work out on the Lakewood speedway several times this week.

Much Interest. Queries from Macon, Savannah and other cities, as well as from Atlanta pilots, indicate that plenty of interest is being shown in the announcement of events open only to non-professional drivers. By combining events for both professional and non-professional pilots on the same racing card the speed officials believe they will have a series of contests that will furnish thrills for all the fans.

Haugdahl, three times world champion, who is making a "come-back" in the July 4 run, has been working out almost daily on the beach speed way at Dayton, according to advices received here, and is coming up determined to start his "come-back" with some new records. Oscar Mills, secretary of the Southeastern Fair association, expects word from Sig this morning as to his choice of the racing machines for next Monday's speed events, and although the little Norwegian has hinted at choosing a Miller he has wired no decision.

Flyweights To Feature Fourth Fights

Independence Day Embroglio for Spiller Park Will Provide Four "Little 'Un" Battles.

A four-fight flyweight fantasy is frying for flistic fun the Fourth of July.

The promoter of the scheduled show is Ed Douglass and it is his first venture of like nature in Atlanta.

The scene will be the ball park where a ring will be constructed jam again the grandstand wall right back of home plate.

It is the first open air fight Atlanta has had in over a year—and it will probably be the first all little-boy card shown here in many a long moon.

The bouts are in the making. The plans are completed, and a lower top price, less than two simoleons, will be in effect.

Monday afternoon Douglass presented his plans to the Atlanta Boxing commission and had them undergo the official approval.

Three 10-Rounders. Under the present specifications, the fights will be three 10-rounders and one four, providing a flistic program of 34 rounds—if the limit is reached in each.

Promoter Douglass, explaining his reasons for resorting to the small ones for his first show, and he says he plans a lot more in the future—believes that Atlanta fans have come to the point, if any at all, where they would rather witness a fast, evenly matched and hard-working pair of flyweights in action than to look at a gawky, slum-bung battle between a brace of helmsmen with nothing but sock in their systems and not much skill in slinging it.

But, like everyone else, he's not sure it will work. The fans are slow in voicing their desires along fight lines. They don't pay enough attention to fights in Atlanta to have any desires. However, Douglass is prepared to plug along and put forth the best shows possible, catering to the tastes as they are expressed to him, and if he thinks they want the Goliaths and Samsons of the trade, he says he will give it to them.

The theory of the thing may be all right, but what a comical picture it would be for a second baseman fielding a grounder, chasing a runner all around the base path. Which would not be impossible under McGraw's suggestion.

Walter Browne, former Brown university pitcher, also reported to the Giants Monday.

DECLARES DIVIDEND

New York, June 27.—(P)—After an early period of uncertainty, the curb pany announced Monday that the regular semi-annual dividend of 3-1/2 per cent has been declared to preferred stockholders, payable July 1.

The rapid growth of the south in population and commercial importance during the previous decade naturally had a very beneficial effect upon the mortgage market," said Mr.

Chapman. "Southern mortgages are now in the highest favor with insurance companies and other financial institutions and individual investors, but they will not pay a higher rate of interest than the originating banks in order and more developed sections, but because the security behind them is steadily increasing year by year.

Parallel with the growth of Ayanco has been the growth of Wetland's mortgage department as one of the foremost loan institutions in the south. The personnel of the company includes capable men specializing in every phase of the mortgage loan business. Supplementing the mortgage loan department, investment

Insurance departments have been organized, each of which analyzes every piece of property before a loan is made. Since establishment of the enterprise 37 years ago, we have seen Atlanta grow from a straggling little town to the present metropolis of the southeast, now having a population of nearly 400,000.

"This organization has loaned many millions of dollars on property right in the city, and this has all increased materially in value since the mortgages were made. They have been purchased by many insurance companies, financial institutions and ultra-conservative private investors all over the country, and were never more popular than at the present time, and not one of these have ever lost a dollar of principal or interest in connection with any mortgage made by our firm. This, we are proud to say is due to the many safeguards employed in handling these funds.

"In this connection is an article printed recently in the Commercial and Financial World, which sets forth some length the preeminent position Atlanta now occupies in the development of the south and the value of local mortgage investments. Weyman & Connors is mentioned prominently as the pioneer in this line in Atlanta, with more than $17,000,000 invested in first mortgages on more than 1,500 separate pieces of property in Atlanta, Jacksonville and

The total funded debt of the Province of Upper Austria, exclusive of a contingent liability on a guarantee of $452,000, but including the present issue, amounts to $9,756,398. The estimated value of taxable real estate in the Province exclusive of improvements, mineral deposits or industries is $210,000,000, or $239 per capita as compared with a per capita Provincial debt of less than $12.

The population of Austria is about the same as that of Holland and about one and three-quarters times that of Switzerland. Great Britain and the principal European Governments in a Protocol dated October 4, 1922, declared that "they will respect the political independence, territorial integrity and sovereignty of Austria."

Austria is an industrial and agricultural country, over 50% of the population being engaged in industrial and commercial activities. It possesses deposits of iron ore, sufficient to provide the entire needs of its important metal industry, which produces nearly every product known to the iron and steel trade. About 38% of the total area of the country is wooded, providing a timber supply which is the basis for an extensive woodworking and paper industry. In water power resources Austria is one of the richest countries in the world in proportion to its area.

The Austrian currency was one of the first in Europe to be stabilized, and has remained practically without fluctuation since October of 1922. The gold and foreign exchange reserve of the Austrian National Bank is about 14%. Austria's economic and financial recovery is evidenced by a balanced budget, a sound currency, expanding production and more favorable trade relations.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office

ON THE 7TH OF NOVEMBER, 1862, GENERAL BURNSIDE ASSUMED COMMAND OF THE UNION ARMY IN VIRGINIA, SUCCEEDING GEN. MCCLELLAN. AFTER THE BATTLE OF ANTIETAM THE SITUATION DEMANDED AN ADVANCE ON RICHMOND AND IT WAS FOR HIS UNAGGRESSIVENESS THAT MCCLELLAN WAS REMOVED.

TWO PREVIOUS DRIVES AGAINST RICHMOND (MCDOWELL'S AND POPE'S) HAD BEEN MADE ALONG THE RAILWAY TO MANASSAS, BUT BURNSIDE, WITH LINCOLN'S APPROVAL, TO MARCH BY WAY OF FREDERICKSBURG WHICH, THOUGH IT NECESSITATED THE CROSSING OF SEVERAL FAIRLY BROAD RIVERS, WAS THE SHORTER ROUTE.
